President's Message

It's hard to believe but another year is just about over for the BCCA. I hope everyone agrees that this had to be one of the best years for the club. I guess the biggest decision that the Board had to make was moving the BCCA office. We were informed by our former landlord that he was going to raise our rent $100.00 per month. Also, we had to move our storage area and finally in 1978 we had to get out of the office completely. The new office is located at 747 Merus Ct., Fenton, MO 63026. It is approximately 10 minutes west of downtown St. Louis. We now have two and a half times the office and warehouse space as we had before. The cost is only $65.00 more per month. The Board felt that for the betterment of the club the move had to be made.

Now it is time for the thanks. This year was a complete team effort. My fellow officers, board members and committee people all did one heck of a job for you. They should be the people that take the credit for our successful year. But the ones that have to be thanked the most by me, would be my family. More than once the phone rang at 7:00 in the evening and by the time I was off the kids were already sleeping for a couple of hours. But anyway, soccer practice started in August and now I am involved with it. I can hardly wait until PTA starts.

The Leeker family wants also to thank all the Chapters that we visited this past year. It was quite an experience. We traveled over 13,000 miles just to see old friends and make new ones. Your hospitality will never be forgotten. I only wish that we could have made a visit to every Chapter.

Thanks again for your support this past year. It was a pleasure to serve this fine organization.

Very truly yours.

Can Close Up

by Bill Christensen #33

Another commemorative can this month - a foreigner, but not one you'll be apt to find in the foreign new issues column!

The can is CHARTER ALE from the Lacon Brewery in Norwich, England. It was made in 1958, and it commemorates the 750th Anniversary of the granting of the City Charter to Great Yarmouth in Norfolk, affirmed in the 1208 A.D. by King John. Just seven years later, in 1215, John was forced to sign a better known charter as well, the Magna Carta.

The can is a 10oz steel flat top from Metal Box Company. The body color is yellow, with the upper third of the can white. The waves and the seal are blue. CHARTER is in blue and ALE in white.

At the top is a yellow falcon, the animal badge of the Lacon family and trade mark of Lacon Brewery. The choice of this animal centuries ago was probably another incidence of the use of canting arms - arms which are similar to the owner's name - FALCON being similar in spelling to LACON.

Although the can is from Lacon Brewery, it wasn't filled there as Lacon had no canning line. The can was filled by the Phipps Brewery in Northampton. Both breweries are long gone; Lacon is now part of Whitbread, and Phipps was absorbed by Watneys.

You'll note that the top of the can shows the British version of opening instructions, something which they kept until the end of the 1950's. That date seems very late to us, but remember that the first British flat tops came out in around 1952 or 1953.

This CHARTER ALE can, while not mint, is the only example that I have seen or heard of. It is also reported that Lacon produced an India Pale Ale can, but no one has been able to find a specimen still in existence.

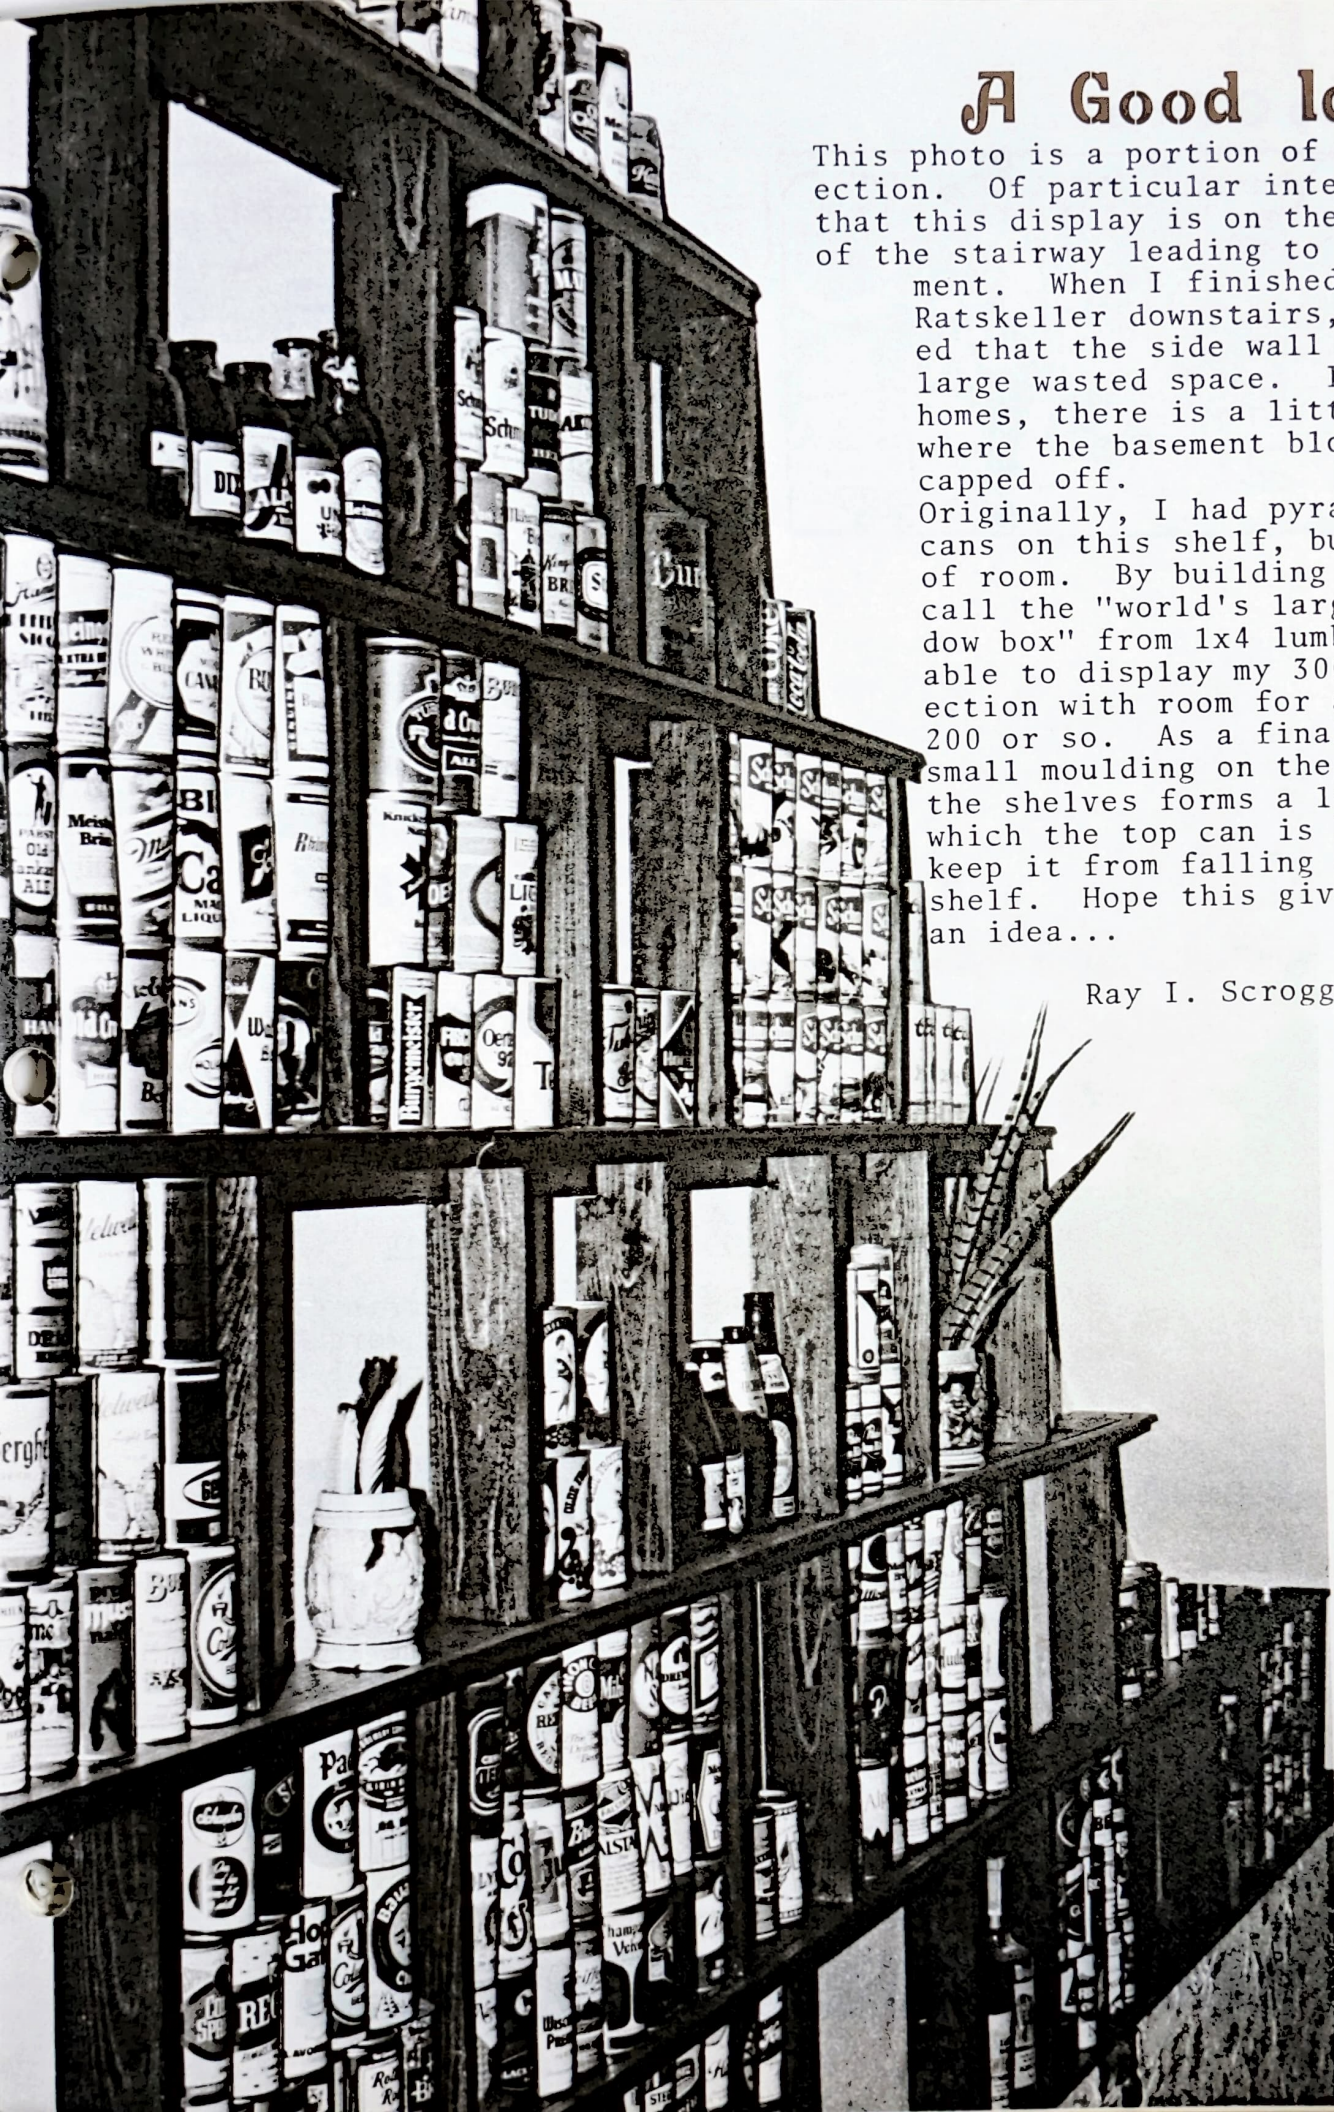

My thanks must go to my friend Richard R. Dolphin, Esq. notorious beer can purveyor, for much of the background data recounted herein.

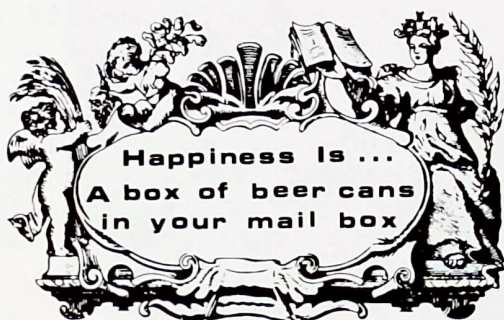

A Good Idea

This photo is a portion of my collection. Of particular interest is that this display is on the side wall of the stairway leading to our basement. When I finished off a Ratskeller downstairs, it seemed that the side wall was a large wasted space. In most homes, there is a little shelf where the basement block is capped off.

Originally, I had pyramided my cans on this shelf, but ran out of room. By building what I call the "world's largest shadow box" from 1x4 lumber, I was able to display my 300 can collection with room for another 200 or so. As a final touch, a small moulding on the edge of the shelves forms a lip under which the top can is hooked to keep it from falling off the shelf. Hope this gives someone an idea...

BIG BEN.

His BCCA number (128) was the number on his Colorado license plate.

He bottom-opened a vast number of oddball beer cans (and top-emptied a similar quantity of Budweiser bottles).

He was a hard-to-miss (6' 6") and hard-not-to-like character at several BCCA conventions.

He had planned to attend the convention in KC this month, but it wasn't to be.

Big Ben Hillhouse died on July 30.

Letters

Sirs:

Sending you a letter about something that happened to me. I was on vacation and when I came home I found that someone had broken in to our house and stole 94 of my beer cans, nothing else.

I am not going to say what cans were stolen, or how I felt, or what I am going to do when I find out who took them. What I am going to say is this.

I have had a great deal of fun in the BCCA and I am not going to let one jerk spoil that. Fortunately, I don't think it was a BCCA member I think it was a non-member.

But this brings to mind, what if it were a member, what can be done about thieves? So, I looked up the matter in the BCCA by-laws and nothing is said.

That's why I wrote this. I think a law should be passed abolishing anyone caught stealing cans from the BCCA. It is too good of a club to have a few thoughtless people spoil it. I think something should be said about this at the business meeting of the BCCA during the convention.

Sincerely,
John N. Feinen #8184

Dear Sirs:

Recently on the Tonight Show, Johnny Carson mentioned the BCCA in the topic of "Clubs you wouldn't believe exist". He said, "These people collect beer cans, they don't sell or buy they only trade". Just wanted you to know.

Sincerely,
Josh B. Rosenblum #12208

The old way and the new

It was a sure sign of summer in "little old New York" to see the good people "rushing the growler" of Rheingold from the beer taps to their homes.

Today, folks who want brewery-fresh Rheingold—buy it in those convenient easy-to-chill modern cans.

... Bottles too!

This letter is in response to the letter in the July-August News Letter concerning mail trades by Roy Beth #5924.

I am a fairly new BCCA member and trading through the mail is new to me. I have made many trades in the past few months and all have been prompt and without any hassles. I have the highest respect for all the members of the BCCA and hope it stays the superb organization it is.

SO EASY TO CARRY HOME

CANS WEIGH LESS—YET HOLD EXACTLY THE SAME AMOUNT OF BEER

NO DEPOSITS TO PAY
When you buy beer or ale in cans, you don't pay deposits on the containers. Already more than two billion cans trademarked "KEGLINED" have brought this new convenience to beer drinkers everywhere.

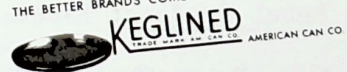

LEVEL-TOP CANS SAVE SPACE
You get the most refreshment in the least space in your refrigerator with beer or ale in level-top cans. Cans trademarked "KEGLINED" are quick-cooling, compact and easy to stack. Easy to drink from, too.

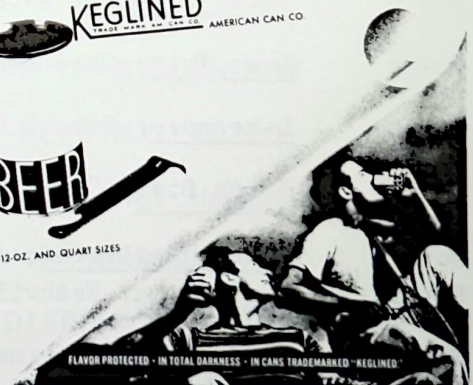

NO EMPTIES TO TAKE BACK
Why clutter up your home with empties? Cans trademarked "KEGLINED" are filled only once—can't be refilled. Therefore, no empties to return. And they're opened the easy, modern way—pour smoothly.

THE BETTER BRANDS COME IN CANS TRADEMARKED

Well, another calendar has been laid to rest. My apologies to the chapter whose letter fell out of my pocket between the post office and the typewriter. I hope that I have a system now to prevent it from happening again. As an added note, please do not send correspondence for the Smoky Mt. Chapter to me. It should go to Ken Kromer #9595. If it comes to me, he probably won't get it, because I live in the boonies.

HOW 'BOUT A SET COMMEMORATING ALL THE PLACES BILLY CARTER HAS MADE A PERSONAL APPEARANCE?

Let's see now! There's the Schmidt's outdoor scenes; the Tennent girls; the many different Iron City can sets; all the Bicentennial cans; Falstaff and General's Presidential series; Orliebs Americana Collection; and the Sterling Kentucky Derby Winners set. Now we have Brickseller's Endangered Species series.

As Ed McMahon might say, "That covers it all. Everything, I mean EVERYTHING, that could possibly be covered in a series of beer cans has been! Right?"

Wrong again 'Clydesdale Breath'. There are still a number of breweries that do not have 'series' cans. And we just happen to have a few ideas they might be interested in.

For instance, how about a set of 'Impression Beer' cans, picturing Rich Little doing all his favorite people. Too much of this beer might change your personality.

Or maybe a 'Watergate Cream Ale' series, which features all the Watergate defendants who were sent to prison. A 25-can set (so far), this brew may not give you a hangover, but you sure could get stone(wall)ed.

But the set of cans I would most like to see is 'Finley's Export'. These cans would salute all the managers fired by Oakland A's owner, Charlie Finley. Now that would really be a can(ned) collection.

AMEN, BEN!

While we're busy enjoying the froth of July this month, it might be wise to take a moment to ponder the immortal words of Ben Penn, who long ago wrote in RUSTY RICHARD'S ALMANAC about our hobby's future:

"NO NATION WAS EVER RUINED BY TRADE, ONLY BY BUYING AND SELLING"

Greater Delaware Valley Chapter

WELL, MAYBE WE CAN ALL MEET IN BRUCE GREGG'S BACKYARD!

Two days after the Convention Material packets had been mailed to all BCCA members, the Convention Bureau in Kansas City denied any knowledge of the Convention when contacted by telephone. Wonder if they will be able to make the same denial on September 18?

Hawkeye Chapter

BETTER HAVE AN EXTERMINATOR CHECK YOUR PLACE FOR TERMITES!

Some day you may drink beer out of a wooden container. And it won't be from an old-style keg.

Anheuser-Busch, Inc., of Budweiser beer fame, is working on a wooden beer can that Frank Sellinger, senior vice-president, said could be "the can of the 1980s."

Prototypes used a pressed-wood material that's coated with a very thin, transparent aluminum film. The can looks very much like an ordinary metal can.

Anheuser-Busch is developing the can with an unidentified company not in the can field. Busch doesn't want to say too much about the wooden can but Sellinger said it promises to be cheaper and easier to dispose of than current cans.

The work on the wooden can is part of the evolution since canned beer and soft drinks became popular after World War II.

Hawkeye Chapter

THIS IS YOUR CHANCE OF A LIFETIME!

Have you ever thought about investing in a brewery to kind of ensure that maybe your hobby would continue? It just so happens that we have gotten wind that a limited amount of Horlacher Brewing Co. stock will be offered for sale to a maximum of twenty groups or individuals, each purchasing a minimum of 100 shares at a price of $2.50 a share.

The Chapter Board of Directors has voted to purchase 100 shares of the Horlacher stock and resell it to chapter members on a first come—first served basis at $3.00 per share, no more than one share to a member. The additional money received will be used for expenses incurred in the purchase of the stock. So, if you have ever answered YES to the above question, NOW is your chance. Send a check for $3.00 (made payable to the North Star Chapter) along with a large-sized self-addressed stamped envelope (SASE for short) to the Chapter Secretary-Treasurer, Jack Isacson #1213. Upon receipt of the stock certificate, copies will be made for each purchaser and mailed to him (or her).

From a monetary standpoint this may not be the wisest investment, but then, that's what dreams are made of and besides, who else do you know that owns part of a brewery (or makes that claim known)?

North Star Chapter

1. Bass Special Pale Ale (Bass Charrington Ltd.) Burton-on-Trent, U.K. Completely new design in red and gold having been issued in both the 9.68 fl.oz. (shown) & 15.5 fl.oz. sizes. The labels are the same with "Specially Brewed for the Can" appearing at the bottom of the 15.5 fl. oz. aluminum can whereas the smaller can is crimped/steel.
2. Bavaria Pilsner Beer (Bavaria) Lieshout, Holland. A totally new design in a striking color combination of black & gold in a 33cl crimped steel can.
3. Brisbane Bitter (Carlton & United Ltd.) Australia. Very eye appealing can in shades of red & yellow featuring the sky line of a city. Never brewed before in cans or bottles.
4. Courage Draught (Courage Australia Pty.Ltd.) Melbourne, Australia. Another commemorative can from this innovative brewery. Test Cricket, Australia & England Centenary 1877-1977. This can has the yellow rooster on the barrel on the front of this aluminum can and needless to say Australia was the winner of this 100th anniversary re-match. Front & back of can shown.
5. Diebels Alt (Diebels) Issum/Niederrhein, W. Germany. Green & gold crimped/steel, 11½ oz. can.
6. Dinkel Acker CD Privat (Dinkelacker) Stuttgart, Germany. Available now in a 33cl aluminum 2 sided can in vibrant yellow containing the same basic "logo" as on the 5.0 barrel can which was mentioned in the July issue.
- 7.* Falcon Gold Ol IIB (Falcon) Sweden. New, but already obsolete, beautiful gold can with crowns, lions, coins, & of course the falcon within the oval.
8. Hemeling Lite Lager (Bass Charrington Ltd.) Burton-on-Trent, England. 9.68 fl.oz. crimped/steel can and a 15.5 fl.oz. aluminum can (shown) are now on the market having the same label. The larger can has SERVE COOL at the bottom of the can with green & red lines at the top & bottom of that can. Colors are silver/red/green & white.
- 9.* Kavaljer Ljust Ol IIB (Warby) (Sweden). Another new, but already obsolete vibrant blue & gold can featuring a horse & rider.
10. Keo Crown
11. Keo Star } Malt Tonic (Keo Limited) Cyprus. Both cans are olive green in color with black lettering. Needless to say the Keo Crown has a crown at the top of the can & the Keo Star has a star at the top of that can.

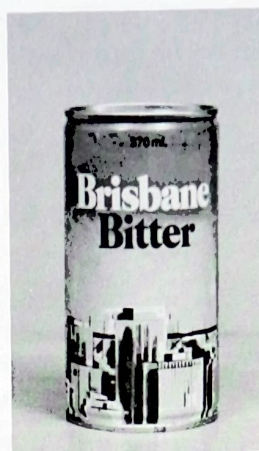

Kokanee Biere Pilsener Beer (Columbia) Creston, B.C.. A 2 sided push top can with the contents & 5% alc./vol. printed at the bottom in gold, on one side only. The word Beer is no longer on the label in gold letters under KOKANEE, with the color combination of dark blue/light blue/gold & white remaining.

13. Leon de Oro (Rieckert) Cochabamba, Argentina. Red, white, black & gold 350 straight/steel can.
14. Leopard Export Lager Beer (Leopard) Hastings, New Zealand. Identical mountain scene as appeared on the KORU LAGER BEER can which was featured in the May issue. This can of course has the Leopard at the top of the can as do all Leopard cans.
15. Lowen Brau Zurich (Lowenbrau) Zurich, (Switzerland). Striking new label in colors of red/white/yellow/gold & orange.
16. McEwan's Cavalier Lager (Scottish & Newcastle) Scotland. 15½ fl.oz. 2 sided can in blue/black/gold & silver colors.
17. Norrland Guld Ljust Ol (Warby) (Sweden). This can contains the same lake scene within the oval as did it's predecessors but Norrland Guld is in blue letters on an all gold can.
18. Old Vienna Premium Quality Lager (Carling O'Keefe) Toronto, Waterloo, Canada. New striking all white can containing blue shield trimmed in gold and of course both Beer & Biere on the shield. New promotional idea "just say OV" appears on the right side of this 2 sided can.
19. Philips Jubilee Lager (Leopard) Hastings, New Zealand. An export strength lager beer brewed to celebrate Philips 50th anniversary in New Zealand, 1927-77. (Philips TV, HiFi, shave, lighting, service.)
- Reschs Premier Lager (Tooth & Co.) Sydney, Australia. The festival of Sydney, a Mardi Gras type of entertainment ultimately rivaling Rio de Janiero. First festival was considered a success with a loss of only $400,000.00.
- 20-23. Rothenburg O.T. Export (Rothenburg) Brewed in Bavaria. This is a beautiful 4 can set featuring scenes of local buildings. #20-Floenlein, #21-Rathaus, #22-Rodergasse Mit Markusturm, #23-Rodertor.
24. Starbock III (Till) (Sweden). An all gold can featuring the head of a ram.
- 25-27 Tennent's Lager (Tennent Caledonian) Glasgow, U.K. Three new dolly birds (as the Scots say) have finally arrived after a number of hitches namely strikes at the Steel Co. of Wales (who provide the tin plate), & at the Metal Box (the can manufacturer.) Therefore the original set of six won't be issued until late summer with 2 poses of each lovely. Instead the set of 3 cans with paper labels has been issued featuring Erica Greer (#25), May Gartshore (#26), & Marie Kirkwood (#27). This is the first paper label set ever issued by Tennents and will be available for a matter of weeks making it one of the most valuable sets ever to come out of Scotland.
28. *Till Mellanol IIB (Till) (Sweden). Completely new label and very eye appealing gold can, with silver, and various shades of blue. This too has become an obsolete can.
29. Wunster Export (Wunster) Bergamo, Italy. Tan & white can.
- * As of July 1, 1977 all cans containing the word Mellanol and IIB have become obsolete. Instead of Mellanol, they will be referred to as Folkol and IIA.

Beer Fan Is Foaming At Ads by Brewery Unit of Philip Morris

Public Given the Impression
Lowenbrau Is Made Only
In Germany, Suit Charges

By a WALL STREET JOURNAL Staff Reporter

CHICAGO—A beer fan accused Miller Brewing Co. of tricking the public into believing its Lowenbrau beer is brewed only in Germany.

The Milwaukee-based subsidiary of Philip Morris Inc. was sued in Cook County circuit court, charged with deceptive advertising in the sale of its Lowenbrau beer. John Christoffel, a 33-year-old manufacturing engineer for Abbott Laboratories, claimed that Miller gets customers to pay a premium price by giving the impression that the beer comes from Munich, where it has been made for 600 years.

In actuality, Miller has been brewing Lowenbrau in Fort Worth, Texas, since early 1976, and is test marketing the domestic version in eight U.S. areas. The company continues to sell the imported brew in other areas, according to a spokesman.

The Miller spokesman declined comment about the suit, saying, "We haven't seen a copy of the complaint."

Mr. Christoffel said he discovered the Lowenbrau beer wasn't imported when he turned over a six-pack and noticed, in relatively small print on the package's bottom, the information that Lowenbrau was produced domestically "under the authority" of the German concern.

"This is a blatant act of trying to deceive people," declared the engineer, who, in his work for Abbott's Consumer Products division, gets involved with labelling and packaging of its products. In addition, the domestic Lowenbrau beer doesn't "taste the same as the German beer. It doesn't taste as strong," he added.

The suit called the Miller beer "an American reformulation of the German beer." It seeks an injunction to halt the alleged "deceptive trade practices" and a requirement that Miller's store displays and advertisements prominently display a legend informing shoppers that the beer isn't German made.

Mr. Christoffel's complaint also seeks a refund for customers who bought the Miller brand of Lowenbrau—amounting to the difference between its price and the cost of a comparable domestic beer. According to Schaefer's, one large local liquor store, Miller's Lowenbrau sells for $2.69 a six-pack, compared with $2.10 for a six-pack of a Michelob, a comparable domestic beer. When the imported Lowenbrau was on the market here, it sold for about $1 more than the domestic version, Schaefer's said.

The Miller spokesman added that the brewery hasn't changed the Lowenbrau formula or taste, and in fact, brought over German brewmasters to help make the beer. The resulting product is "fresher than the imported variety," he maintained.

Have you ever tried to wrap two or three six-packs or even a case of cans for trade. Well it's not a very easy, especially if you don't want to spend your life savings on postage.

Well I've been experimenting with some different ways and I think I've come up with a method that will save time as well as money.

For a Case of 12oz Cans:

1. Get a hold of a Brown Paper Bag (Grocery store style).
2. Now take 12 cans and place them at the bottom of the paper bag (standing up). They should fit loosely.
3. Now take a newspaper and rip it in half (so that all you have is single pages).
4. Once you've done that take three single pages and fold them so they fit between the cans like so.

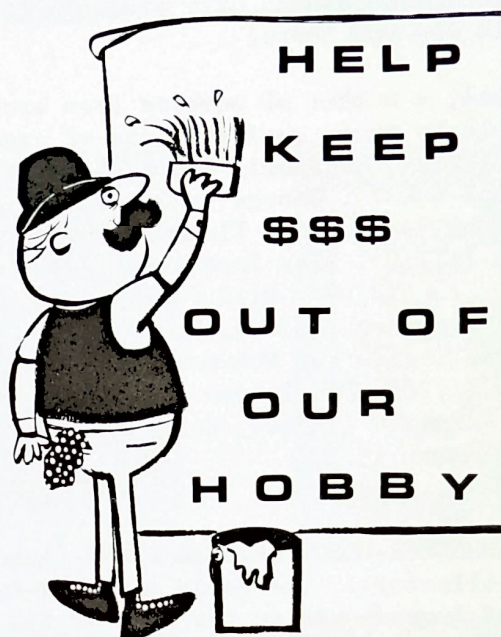

| = folded newspaper

5. If you made it this far do this. Cover this bottom layer of cans with a sheet of newspaper. Then put the remaining cans on top. Repeat step 4 with these cans.
6. When you've got this done fold the top of the bag down on the cans and tape securely.

Now you have a well wrapped batch of cans! If you're worried about strength slide a few pieces of cardboard in around the sides before sealing.

HAPPY TRADING!

WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE: A new tv commercial in which actor George Kennedy touts the "mountain pure water" feeding F&M Schaefer Brewing Co.'s Lehigh Valley, Pa., brewery, features a cascading water scene actually filmed in Eugene, Ore. Schaefer's agency, Warwick, Welsh & Miller, New York, explained that the Oregon site was used because the waters in the Lehigh Valley were frozen last January when the spot had to be made. After the campaign broke, a Lehigh Valley newspaper contacted the agency because the water scene didn't look familiar. The resulting story was picked up by news services. New tv spots will soon be shot using nothing but 100% pure Lehigh Valley streams...

Battle Over 'Light' Beer Finally Coming to Head

SEATTLE— —A beermakers' fight over the term "light" is coming to a head in U.S. District Court here.

Involved in the name-calling are Miller, Rainier and Olympia brewing companies —all of which brew the increasingly popular reduced-calorie, low-carbohydrate beer.

The Wisconsin-based Miller Brewing Co. claims it had the name "LITE" first and contends in separate legal actions that the Seattle-based Rainier Brewing Co.

marketing since last May a reduced-calorie, low-carbohydrate beer called "Rainier Light."

Miller says Rainier's beer is likely to become known as "Light" because of the prominence of the word on its packaging and advertising.

Olympia Brewing, Miller contends, also infringed on the Miller name by marketing since last January a reduced-calorie beer called "Olympia Gold," which is advertised as "light."

MILLER ASKED the court to grant preliminary and permanent injunctions halting the use of the word "light" by other brewers. Miller also seeks unspecified damages in the two suits.

Miller contends it bought the rights to the trade name "LITE" in 1972 from Meister Brau, Inc., of Chicago, which used it as the name of its reduced-calorie beer since 1967.

Miller claims it then experimented with the Meister Brau formula, improved it and launched nationwide sales of the beer in 1973. By 1976, sales reached four million barrels a year. Use of the word "light" by other brewers misleads the beer-drinking public, Miller contends, because many suds-sippers order their "light" beer without mentioning the name of the brewing company.

After 105 Years, Hull Stops Brewing Beer

The future of the last brewery in Connecticut appears doubtful today following suspension of the production of Hull's beer — a beverage which has quenched Connecticut thirsts for 105 years.

The Hull Brewing Co. was sold recently to a new Connecticut corporation, the Hull Export Brewing Co., and the new owners could not be reached for comment on the situation.

Other sources, however, confirmed that Hull's beer isn't being made at the block-square Congress Avenue plant. The company is still making and distributing Malta Caribe, a non-alcoholic malt soft drink which is sold principally in the Hispanic community in New York City and Puerto Rico.

The Hull's payroll, which totaled 140 people as recently as last year, is now reportedly down to 10.

Because of the deteriorating situation at Hull's, that beer is now almost impossible to find in package stores and bars. A few bars last week were selling what the proprietors described as "the last of the Hull's."

Because of a feeling that Hull's will no longer be brewed, most bars which formerly sold that beer have switched to other brands.

One possibility is that the new owners of the Hull's business may produce soft drinks in the plant. The principals of the corporation which bought Hull's are owners of a soft drink plant in Paterson, N.J.

Hull's has been having financial difficulties for several years and has consequently lost a big chunk of the market it once had. As recently as last year, the product was sold in several thousand outlets in Connecticut, Western Massachusetts and a portion of New York State.

Founded in 1872, the brewery is one of the oldest in the nation.

Officials at the Hartford office of the U.S. Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, which is part of the Treasury Department, today said the brewery last week requested, and received, permission to "dump," or destroy, 300 gallons of beer which had spoiled because of inadequate refrigeration. Officials at that office said that because alcoholic beverages are federally taxed, the move required government permission. In effect, this permission "explained" what had happened to a quantity of production.

Adolph Coors Co. of Golden, fifth largest U.S. brewer, has been using the phrase "America's Fine Light Beer" on all of its bottle and can labels and in advertising for 36 years.

The company said Saturday it has no plans for a change despite litigation by Miller Brewing Co. aimed at forcing two other breweries to halt use of "Lite" and "Light" in connection with their products.

and the Tumwater, Wash., based Olympia Brewing Co. infringed on its exclusive rights to use the word "light" to describe the beer.

CANVENTION VII is just around the corner and it looks as though there will be plenty of new cans on hand to add to our collections. The most prolific brewer at this time appears to be the Pittsburgh Brewing Co. By the time you read this issue's column, chances are good that some of the following Pittsburgh cans will be on the market: the much talked about BRICKSKELLER endangered animal series, BRICKSKELLER SALOON-STYLE, the new OLDE FROTH-INGSLOSH series, DINKEL DARK, MAGNA CARTA CREAM ALE, OLD DOVER MALT LIQUOR plus another can or two they have been rumored to be working on. Add to this another batch of new brands and design changes from other brewers that are bound to make their appearance in August and September, and Kansas City promises to be a happy hunting ground for collectors of new cans. Hope to see you there!

As usual, a number of members from around the country helped to make this month's column possible by their contributions of cans and information. A tip of the hat to: Gene (2004) & Peggy (10124) Migliori, Ken (218) & Lois (288) Hiestand, Clint Leonhardt (1653), Marlowe Schlegel (3037), George Arnold (2217), Carl Pellham (12275), J. J. Collins (2813), Glenn Horstmann (4043), Jim Plummer (6649), Charlie Frye (5857), Barry Gordon (4983), David Perico (11719), Alex Schwertner, Jr. (3094), Bob Drach (6269), Josh Rosenblum (12208), Walt Wimer, Jr. (13267), Bill Vasko (833), Jack Kerr (10964), Bill Jones (12013), Frank Doud (5403), Gordon Durocher (13307), Rusty Butler (13444), Jim Thole (410), Ed Franco (7035), Chuck Nekvasil (525), Ron Moermond (224), Chris Guiley (11681), Jan Kirkpatrick (3269), Tony Mazzeo (1798), Bob Palmer (587), Joe Geist (238), James Pine (13393), Carl Cox (13742), Glenn Hargrave (14332), John Mihm (3752), John Vetter (369), Scott Anderson (11980) and Dick Rausche (526).

1. ANHEUSER-BUSCH NATURAL LIGHT (Anheuser-Busch) adds can number three for you variety collectors. The words ANHEUSER-BUSCH NATURAL LIGHT have been added above the list of ingredients on the side of the can. They have also added the line, "SAME AS OUR REGULAR BEER". This is an extruded steel can whereas the two previous cans were aluminum.
- ATLAS PRAGER BOHEMIAN LIGHT LAGER (G. Heileman) is now out in an aluminum can.
2. BALLANTINE PREMIUM LAGER (Falstaff) now out in a two-sided aluminum can. The can's design is identical to the General Brewing can shown in the November, 1976, issue.
3. BARTELS PURE (The Lion) has a redesigned aluminum can--now referred to as a PARTY/KEG.
4. BERGHOFF 1887 PALE EXTRA DRY (Pearl) is now on the market by this brewery in an aluminum can. Design is the same as the Walter Brewery can, but has been reduced in size.
5. BUCKHORN (Lone Star) now out in an extruded steel can. Metallic gold band around the can replaces the regular gold paint that was on the previous can.
6. BUDWEISER (Anheuser-Busch) has provided another drinking can for Princeton University--this one for the 1977 annual Princeton reunion held the first week in June. This particular can is a crimped-steel can.
7. BUFFALO PREMIUM LAGER (Blitz-Weinhard) is now out in a redesigned extruded steel can--in fact, two cans. One is copper/gold and the other silver. Seems as though the initial batch, some 600 cases, came out in the copper/gold cans. For some reason, the brewery did not like the color of this can, so they switched to the silver can.
8. FALSTAFF FINE LAGER (General) is an alteration of the previous FALSTAFF can with the word LAGER replacing the word LIGHT. Can is extruded steel.

9. FISHER LAGER (General) replaces the word LIGHT with the word LAGER. This extruded steel can features the U.P.C. code.

10. GABLINGER'S EXTRA LIGHT (Forrest), mentioned last issue, shown this issue.

11. GOEBEL GOLDEN LAGER (Goebel) changed the contents line on their can by dropping, "Contents 12 fl. Oz.", and replacing it with "12 fl. oz. (355 ml)".

IRON CITY (Pittsburgh) is making plans for a 1977 Pittsburgh Steelers can--number three in the series.

12. KOEHLER PILSNER (Erie) is now on the market in a gold, brown, silver, blue and black aluminum can. On one side of the can the contents is shown as "12 FL. OZ." while the other side indicates "0.355 LITRE".

13. LONE STAR (Lone Star) has redesigned their can reverting back to a larger shield design reminiscent of their older cans. The can is aluminum complete with the U.P.C.

MAGNA CARTA CREAM ALE (Pittsburgh) should be on the market by the time you receive this NEW REPORT. It is only available in the 16 ounce size. Hopefully, a 12 ounce version will be issued at a later date.

14. MARK V LIGHT (Pittsburgh) has gone to a darker shade of blue on the can for you collectors who go in for color variations.

15. NARRAGANSETT (Narragansett) has issued a commemorative can saluting 12 meter yachts--the type of sailboat that competes in the America's Cup races. Rumors indicate that a second can might be issued following the races honoring the winning yacht.

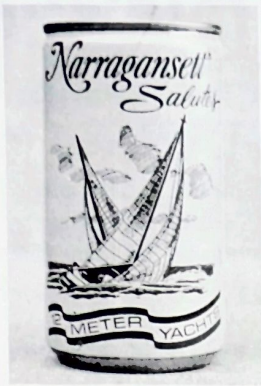

16. NARRAGANSETT LAGER (Falstaff), mentioned last issue, shown this issue. Aside from the change of the brewery name, there is a slight change in the color scheme with white replacing those areas that were silver.

17. NARRAGANSETT 96 EXTRA LIGHT (Falstaff) is now on the market in an extruded steel can. This is the third can in the "96" set--the others being LUCKY 96 AND FALSTAFF 96. Can BALLANTINE 96 be far behind?!

OLD DOVER MALT LIQUOR (Pittsburgh) is another new brand that should be on retailers shelves by this time.

18. OLDE FROTHINGSLOSH (Pittsburgh) is coming out with a new series of cans. A new six-can series is being prepared utilizing photos that were taken of Miss Olde Frothingslosh back in 1969. The six cans are to be released at varying intervals between August and the end of the year. The first (or is it second?) can released shows our heroine tied to some tracks with a speeding trolley bearing down on the fair miss. The second (or is it first?) can shows Miss O. F. riding in a Triumph convertible where she is appearing in the annual parade of the Sons and Daughters of the Sons and Daughters. Stay tuned for further adventures of Fatima Yechburgh!

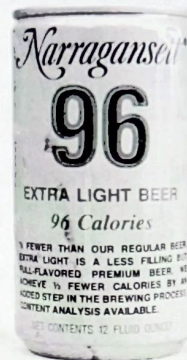

OLD STYLE (G. Heileman) is one of the brand names being rumored that possibly might be used for a commemorative can to salute the 100th birthday of Protivin, Iowa. Protivin is located in northeastern Iowa and has a population of approximately 350. Funny thing is that according to the story that is circulating, some 1,000 cases of the special can might be made for the celebration. If this is the case, every man, woman and child of Protivin will end up with 68.571428 cans unless, of course, some dealer beats everyone to the punch and buys the whole lot! In which case, the residents will have to find something else to toast their centennial with and collectors will end up paying through the nose.

ORTLIEB'S (Henry F. Ortlieb) is now marketing the third can in their Americana series. This one salutes the Coal Mining Industry in Pennsylvania. This can is available in both the 12 and 16 ounce sizes.

19. PEARL LIGHT LAGER (Pearl) is one of the newest entries in the battle of the "light" beers. Like several recently introduced brands, PEARL LIGHT has cut their calorie content by 50% coming up with a 70 calorie beer.
 20. PLAYER'S LAGER (Miller) is now being test-marketed in Tucson, Arizona, Sacramento, Stockton and Modesto, California and parts of Nebraska. Why would Miller Brewing put out another reduced calorie beer when they are doing so well with their own LITE brand? The answer is fairly simple—to meet the competition that is developing in the calorie cutting war. The new battleground that is rapidly taking shape is in the 70 calorie area and that is what PLAYER'S LAGER has---half the calories of regular beer and 26 fewer calories than Miller's LITE beer. How many more calories can be taken out before the taste of beer is lost? I don't think we'll have to wait too long to find out.

21. SHELL'S DEER BRAND EXPORT (August Schell) is the name selected for Schell's new beer following their consumer preference test that was recently completed. Gone are the Roman numerals, but for those of you who are interested, EXPORT I proved to be the most popular brew among those in the taste test.
22. SHORTSTOP GREAT AMERICAN (General) is a new brand name to add to your collection. Marketed by the Shortstop chain of convenience stores in northern California, this extruded steel can features a red, white and blue color scheme, naturally!

STERLING (G. Heileman) is rumored to be considering a new series of cans following the successful introduction of their Kentucky Derby Winners series. The new series is supposed to involve winners of the Indy 500 races.

TIGER (C. Schmidt & Sons) has dropped the "BREWED FOR NIGERIA" line from their can.

23. WIEDEMANN BOHEMIAN SPECIAL (G. Heileman) has dropped the line, "ALL ALUMINUM CAN", from the front of their can. Also removed is Sheboygan, WI as one of their brewery cities.

LATE NEWS:

BLACK HORSE ALE (Black Horse) is back on the market again, actually being brewed by Koch's. The oval is smaller and the contents information now appears on the front.

FALSTAFF FINE LIGHT (General) is now available without any pricing information on the back.

IROQUOIS INDIAN HEAD (Iroquois) is another Koch's product that has been reintroduced. The basic design is the same as previous cans minus the horizontal gold stripes around the can.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sirs,

While reading the new excellent Roster on Restoring and Preserving, I've found that you didn't put in a way to take off light rust. I've found light rust easily removed while the cans were dipped in 100% Coca Cola and left to sit for about 10 or 15 minutes. It does a very good job and won't fade or eat into the cans. Another good way to take off medium-heavy rust is to add 2 spoon fulls of oxalic acid to one quart of Coke. Leave to sit 15 minutes. This serves 3-4 cans.

Thanks, - and keep up the excellent work on the News Report and Want Ads.

Sewer Rats Must Have Had a Good Time in Rochester

ROCHESTER, N.Y.

— More than 6.2 million cans of Genesee beer and ale were opened and their contents dumped into the Monroe County sewer system earlier this year because the cans were defective, it has been disclosed.

The 584,400 gallons of beer and lager had a retail value of more than $1.5 million.

The American Can Co. in nearby Fairport, which made the cans, conformed they were defective.

A spokesman said a sealing compound placed on the cans last fall allowed some of the beer and ale to become cloudy.

MILWAUKEE in 78,

Unfortunately there have been rumors that the 1978 Convention will not be in Milwaukee. Wrong. Bob Herrmann #451 is working as hard as any Convention Chairman has in the past. Fear not - All is well.

Beer Can Collectors of America

THE BEER CAN COLLECTORS OF AMERICA was founded in St. Louis, Missouri in April, 1970 by seven beer can enthusiasts. We now have over 10,000 members in forty-nine states and in numerous foreign countries. There are no prerequisites for membership in the BCCA, only an interest in collecting beer cans. We have members in almost all walks of life and in every age group.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE BENEFITS OF BELONGING TO THE BCCA:

1. YOU RECEIVE a Composite List showing all canned beer brands held by our members. You can use this as a check list against your own collection.
2. YOU RECEIVE a Roster containing the names & addresses of fellow members. This is most helpful when trading by mail, phone or in person.
3. YOU RECEIVE your official Membership Card which is proof of membership for the year your dues are paid. This card entitles you to all the rights and privileges of a member of the BCCA.
4. YOU RECEIVE an official BCCA Windshield Decal and the BCCA embroidered Emblem.
5. YOU RECEIVE our bi-monthly (6 issues a year) publication BEER CAN COLLECTOR'S NEWS REPORT, which contains new brand information and numerous articles of interest.
6. YOU RECEIVE a Membership Certificate suitable for framing, signed by the President and Secretary.
7. YOU HAVE THE RIGHT to attend our Annual CANvention. The News Report will contain details about the CANvention which is held yearly in September.
8. YOU RECEIVE a Monthly Want Ad Bulletin containing many possible trades. (A small charge is applied for placing ads. A coupon for one (1) free ad will accompany each new membership.)

We welcome you to join this fast growing, fun loving, club so you may enjoy the fellowship and all the benefits of membership; however, please note, the BCCA is a trading club, and the buying and selling of cans amongst members is strongly discouraged.

DON'T BUY THAT CAN, TRADE FOR IT,

Jim Hipes

CANVERSATIONS WITH THE BERGMEISTER 799

I was just wondering what my time would be spent upon come September when the term as a board member expired. Didn't have to wonder long. Lew Cady, #98 has retired from the News-Report staff, exceptin' as a picture taker. So, now his hand picked replacement takes over.

Lew has done this 'column' since its inception. He has also done a lot more for this club than most people realize, or most care.

But in his own words, Mr. Cady has decided to limit his BCCA activities to one week a year. We all know that the News-Report took up too much Coors drinkin' time. So, Mr. Coors will now be that much richer.

For a fantastic job in the past, why don't all you pholks go open a can of your favorite brew and toast Lew?

Then butter him lightly.

FROM NOW ON, if you have any weird happenings to report, send them to me. Jeff Berg #799 205 Long's Ln., Gillette, WY. 82716. If you send a photo or 2, try and use black and white, so Smith doesn't get mad. Please.

DUMPERS

SPEAKING of things to send, here's one that most of you can partake in. Let me know some of the weird things you have uncovered whilst dumping. You know, just plain old strange or disgusting things that you've scrounged. L. Smith has found $13, deer heads, and some Snake Selects. We, of course, have found the infamous dead sheep, not to mention dead antelope, dogs, and even a few beer cans. I remember Hall Baker, #555, telling me that some Cal fellas found a dead person. That would be enough for me to quit.

While in a drunken stupor (or a current state of mind) Rolfe Weiss, #1044 asked "Did Thomas Alva Edison really invent this Light? Yes!!

Sleazy Rider

Still in Ohio, it has been reported that Weiss has also dumped his plushy 2 hr. a per day job in favor of becoming a bum. He has bought a motorcicle and plans to bum around in the mid-west, and Utah. The latter due to his crush on Marie 'Call me Teeth' Osmond. Honestly.

Also at the Dayton Mini-etc., an incident was reported concerning the site seelection of the 1980 Convention. Seems that one BCCA officer was presented with a t-shirt which boasted a certain city. Seems another Mo. collector took immediate pix of same, and hustled them off to an ex-BCCA officer, who staunchly resented the fact that the current BCCA officer did so. See what happens when you don't support Casper, Wyo. for '80?

DONTCHA GET sick of guys who want to trade for nothing but mint-mint-mint cans when their trading stock consists of nothing better than grade 47?

FOR OUR YOUNGER members,; if you are unable to grow any facial hair, and wish to do so, Ken Conner #448 will be glad to grow a 'stache for you, shave it off, and trade it for the can of his choice. Honest.

John L. Talbott, #8987, and John's wife (comma) Debby # 11987, take their gentle dog, a Pinscher, everywhere. To swap meets, weddings, the whole bit. At the Dayton Mini-etc. this summer, a not-to smart person brought over another gentle pooch to see Talbott's pooch. When last seen, they were just east of Luckenbach, Texas.

THE SAME JOHN TALBOTT was also overheard saying the following. 'Boy, have I got it made. I can sit here in the shade, now that I have her (John's wife (comma) Debby, trained. She makes a helluva lot of good deals. Watch out, John.

In his anxiety to make sure he had a good spot to set up his traders at a recent swap meet, an unidentified Mile Hi Chapter member arrived exactly 1 week to soon. When asked about this, he replied; 'I just din't wanna miss any of the action!'

Phoenix 79

Marcia Butterbaugh, #6560, the chairwoman for the 1979 CANvention has supplied the following progress report.

"The Del Webb has already started making the ice. Carling-National, who will probably supply most of the beer, has put on 67 extra workers already, just to get a good enough supply of beer." Indeed.

PICTURED somewhere on this page of reading delights is Randy Mattingly, #6288. He's the one with 2 eyes. You will also note a cast on Randy's left arm. He got the cast after he broke his wrist while reaching for a can that was in a car going past him. If you look close, you will also see a picture of a National can on same. An artist friend drew it, at the cost of 1½ hrs. tyme. Right down to the recyclable aluminum. Randy later traded it off for a Clipper Pale. Same size, too.

Merchants Beware!!

ASK STEVE HART, #1936 about the newest BCCA chapter. Simply called the Vigilante Chapter. Sez Steve; "Its simple. Everyone who is in it will get a black arm band and an o-fish-ul Vigilante t-shirt. Were gonna satisfy the death wish fantasies of all the beloved can merchants.

FAME & FORTUNE has hit a BCCA'er, formerly of Wyoming. J. Micheal Morgan, #1721 now resides in Washington D.C., where he does some sort of important job for Sen. Malcolm Wallop. Yes, thats really his name. Anyway, oncet while Malcolm was out of town, J. Micheal went to this important type meeting. However, since the Senator hisself wasn't there, J. Mike stood in for him. And we do mean stood in. Cause he wasn't allowed to sit in the senator's chair at the meeting. Not even to scratch his ankle. Nope. He had to stand BEHIND it at all times.

ON A SERIOUS NOTE: One of our members recently under went major surgery. I'm sure he could use some cheering up, and would appreciate a note or card or even a few nice cans. If you're feeling generous, send them to Dan Christ, #4806, 741 Jackson, Carpentersville, Ill. 60110. We'd appreciate it!

DID YOU KNOW, that Gary Crossen, #8068 has rusty teeth?

If you have not purchased the 1976 Convention Commemorative Can you better hurry. ALL unsold cans will be smashed and recycled on NOVEMBER 1. Send $3.00 to:
